Red route given the green light in inner ring road bid

CHEMICAL containers had to be removed from a blaz-ing garage by firefighters to prevent a potential town centre explosion.

The fire service feared the cylinders were 'dangerous' when the Unimotor building in Taylor Street, Luton, went up in flames after sparks ignited materials on the site while a van was being repaired on Wednesday afternoon.

The blaze had started in the ground floor workshop but spread to the first floor and roof.

Acetylene cylinders and LPG bottles were removed to ensure they did not become involved.

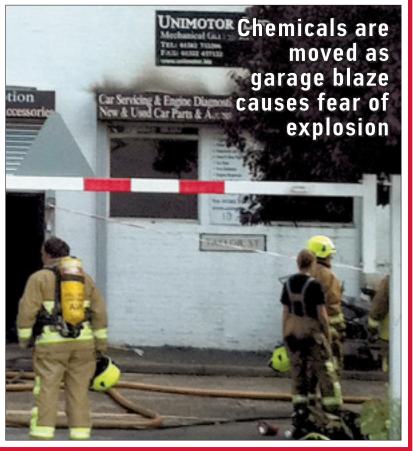

Station Commander Steve Allen praised the work of the fire crews.

He said: "The fire was well developed by the time we arrived and the crews worked hard to prevent fire spreading to other build-ings and then to extinguish

"Car workshops potentially contain a lot of dangerous chemicals so we were concerned about what might have to deal with.

"We did remove as a precaution some cylinders for safety reasons." Four fire crews from

AN INNER ring road for traffic-stricken Luton moved a step closer this week when the council formally asked for Government funding towards the project.

The much needed Luton Town Centre Transport Scheme, which has an estimated total cost of £24 million and involves a new road to reduce car congestion on the north side of the town centre, could be completed in 2014.

The proposed road would The proposed road would take traffic along the current Crescent Road, through Crawley Green Road and on to St Mary's Road roundabout.

Luton Borough Council will submit a final bid for the project to the Department for Transport (DfT) by September 9, asking it to contribute £15.85m.

The remaining £8.15m would come from third parties and savings on land, design and construction costs. Work could start in early

An alternative route - which would take almost a straight line from Crescent Road (between Crescent Rise and Moulton Rise) to St Mary's Road roundabout - was rejected on Thursday by council-

This latter option - dubbed the 'Green' option - is considered to have more environmental benefits, but is more expensive and may take longer to construct than the 'Red' option which was eventually decided on. Liberal Democrat leader Cllr

David Franks claims the decision 'defies all logic' and will severely clog up the town's roads. He said: "It won't work it will be a disaster.
"I am still having difficulty believing they have really done it. While the official report clearly spells out that the 'Green' route is the best option, they went for the 'Red' one because it is cheaper.

"The result will be a disaster for drivers using the ring road and for people living in the Crawley Green/Wigmore area who use Crawley Green Road to get into the town centre. "The town centre end of Crawley Green Road is totally incapable of dealing with the morning rush hour traffic now. The traffic queues go way back up the hill."

The project originally received provisional support in 2003, with public consultation being conducted in 2007.

Luton Council leader Hazel Simmons said: "The scheme is vital to securing the long-term economic prosperity and future growth of Luton.

"A number of improvements to Luton town centre have already been delivered this vear to a design which ensures the new road can be accommodated, including the new station multi-storey car park and the pedestrian bridge between the station and Midland Road."

Maria will miss her Magic moments after hit-and-run

A DOG had to be put down after suffering terrible injuries from a hit-andrun driver.

Maria Francis was walking her two-year-old Staffordshire Bull Terrier Magic on Monday at 7.45pm when a car mounted the pavement and ran the dog over in Vincent Road, Luton.

The black Mercedes missed Miss Francis, 31, but Magic was seriously injured and had to be rushed to the vets. Sadly she had to be put down on Tuesday because of her injuries, which included a broken tail, broken legs, broken thigh, and she may also have had internal injuries.

The driver of the Mercedes did not stop and Miss Francis said it was travelling at a high sneed.

Now Miss Francis is appealing for witnesses and is hoping anyone who saw what happened will come forward with information, or the driver will hand themselves in.

She said: "Magic was my life, she was like one of my children.
"She had her whole life to live. It's just me and her and we have been through so much together.

"Änyone who met her loved her. "I just want someone to come forward and help. All I saw was the back of the car, it happened so quick, it just came out of nowhere.

A TEENAGE drug dealer who was seriously injured when he fell from a sixth floor window while fleeing from a police raid has been jailed for seven and a half years.

Adam Spittles was trying to escape while officers forced entry into his flat in Downs Road, Luton, when he did not answer a knock at the door on November 19 last year.

On Friday, Luton Crown Court heard how Spittles, 19, climbed through the window with a bag of cash using the flex from a chainsaw that he had wedged under the sofa, but it snapped. He was taken to hospital with broken legs, a broken vertebrae and head injuries which required extensive surgery. He needs further operations, said his barrister, James Rouse. Police, who found more than a kilo of cannabis and a small pistol containing a live barrel in the flat, had gone there to arrest Spittles for not appearing at court the previous Recorder Bruce Carr QC told Spittles: "If ever there was a case of you being the author of your own misfortunes then this is it.

"While it is difficult to not to have some sympathy for you it has limited impact on the sentence I have to pass on you.

"For a young man you have a record as long as your arm and I fear for what becomes of you when you are released from prison because you appear to be heading towards a lifetime of criminality. And I fear for the residents of Luton if you carry on at that level.

Spittles, who was living in Startpoint flats, pleaded not guilty to possessing cocaine with intent to supply, possessing cannabis with intent to supply, possessing a prohibited firearm and possessing a prohibited firearm and possessing the property of American fed. three live rounds of American federal bullets, and possessing £2,880 from the proceeds of drug dealing.

But he was convicted by a jury and sentenced to the mandatory five years for the firearm offence, with a further two and a half years for the other offences.

Thousands sign up in bid to outlaw the EDL

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

AN online petition has been formally launched asking the Government to ban the English Defence League.

So far more than 2,000 people have signed up to support the submission to proscribe the group, which was founded by Tommy Robinson (pictured left) – aka Stephen Lennon who lives in Luton.

- Who lives in Luton.

The petition, which was registered earlier this month by a person called Jon Michael Nugent, addresses the Home Office: "We call on the British Government to give serious consideration to proscribing the English Defence League (EDL) under current anti-terrorism legislation and the Racial and Religious Hatred act.'

The petition has 12 months - until August 2012 – to gain 100,000 signatures, otherwise it will be taken down with no action taken. Should it hit its target, the request may be discussed in parliament.

A Luton Town Hall spokeswoman said: "The specific criteria for deciding whether or not to proscribe a group or organisation is set by central government under the Terrorism Act 2000.

"It is the council's duty to be conscious of any updating or additions to this list."

A Bedfordshire Police spokeswoman said: "Obviously any decision to proscribe any organisation is down to the Government and we will abide by any legislation that's passed.

"Our priority is to ensure the public of Luton remain safe."

Mr Robinson said: "We are going to start a campaign to stop any more mosques being built and I can guar-antee there will be at least double the signatures than that one.

You can't proscribe the EDL. We are for integration and a multi-cultural society

The Home Office was contacted but failed to comment on the issue.

Arrests made over school 'hate mail' allegations

TWO women staff were arrested over claims of hate mail being sent to a teacher's wife at a school.

It is believed they both worked at Ashcroft High School, in Crawley Green Road, Luton, and since the arrests were made one of the women has resigned. They have both been released on police bail pending further inquiries and no charges have been made. In March an email was sent out by the school's headteacher, Monica Austin, asking for informa-tion on a 'barrage of hate mail' received by the spouse of a teacher.

In it she said she believes the person behind the campaign is either a 'member of staff or very close to a mem-ber of staff' as 'some of the letters refer to other staff members by name and also describe specific incidents that took place at Ashcroft that were not widely known about.'

She informed staff at the 1,170 pupil school that the victim's car had been vandalised and he and his wife had been 'reported anonymously to social services'.

The headteacher said around 40 letters sent to the man's wife were 'spiteful, abusive and offensive' and were 'an obvious attempt to break up the marriage'.

A police spokeswoman said: "An inquiry is ongoing so it would be inappropriate to comment at this

OAP benefit fraudster must pay back £4,903

A 72-year old man has been convicted of benefit fraud.

Claimant Alfred Brown of Redfern Court, Luton, did not tell Luton Borough Council that his wife had started work as a cleaner in June 2010. By failing to report the change in his financial circumstances to the council, Brown fraudulently received benefit payments totalling £4,903.

He appeared at Luton Magistrates Court charged with knowingly failing to report a change in his financial circumstances in connection with his benefit.

The court heard that Brown's claim for housing and council tax benefit was investigated by the council's Audit and Investigations team following a data matching exercise.

After pleading guilty, Brown was sentenced to a 12 month conditional discharge and ordered to pay £270 towards the council's costs. He will now have to repay the entire £4,903 to the council.

Cllr Robin Harris, council portfolio holder for finance, said: "Benefits fraud is stealing. It's stealing from your friends and stealing from your neighbours.

"No matter who you are or how old you are, we will catch up with you eventually if you don't tell the truth on your benefit forms or let us know about any financial changes in your household.'

Care home delays 'not on' says union

BY LUI STRACCIA

A UNION has urged councils to get involved in helping Southern Cross care homes to be taken

The GMB said it is 'unacceptable' new operators of Luton homes The Griffin, in Moorland Gardens, and Milliner House, in Marsh Road, and Dunstable's Kirby House, in West Street, have still not been appointed.

Southern Cross, which collapsed last month, is directly managing the transfer of all its homes to new operators.

A deadline of August 1 for land-lords of the 56 homes in the region to arrange takeovers was missed, and the GMB said that, at a meeting on August 16, managers of Southern Cross said they were unable to provide a list as some landlords had yet to appoint new operators and no definite deadline had been fixed.

GMB says it had been told by the company on July 13 that all homes would be transferred by October 31, after which Southern Cross would be 'wound down'.

GMB regional officer Shaun Graham said "The shambles that is Southern Cross rumbles on because apparently the landlords still cannot get their act together after pulling the plug last month on the company.

"Quite why the landlords as the owners of the buildings should be running the show is as mysterious as it is unacceptable.

"Surely national government and elected councillors, on behalf of the taxpayer who fund 80 per cent of the bills, should be in the driving seat - not the backseat drivers who merely own the buildings.

"When will the uncertainty for residents and staff be brought to an end?"

A Southern Cross spokes-woman said: "We cannot com-ment on the transferral process for legal reasons."

A Luton Borough Council spokesman said: "A new provider is expected to take on responsibility for the Luton-run home shortly but it would be inappropriate for us to make any further priate for us to make any further comment at this stage. "While Southern Cross was experiencing financial difficul-ties, contingency plans were drawn up by the Government which would dovetail into existing local contingency plans.

"Clearly our key concern is for the continued quality of care and welfare of the residents and we are continuing to work closely with the Care Quality Commission and other agencies on this issue."

A Luton Borough Council spokeswoman said: "No decision has been made and the health and well-being of the residents is, and always will be, our first priority.
"Besidents their relatives and "Residents, their relatives and carers, staff and the public will be fully involved throughout the consultation and decision-making process.

"We recently held meetings with residents and their families and staff – who we must stress are extremely hard-working, compassionate and committed to ensuring the care needs of the residents are always met – to explain the process before the Executive meeting this week."

Centre to offer only 'dry' services as pool closes

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE swimming pool at Houghton Regis Leisure Centre will definitely close next weekend - but the rest of the facilities there have been spared.

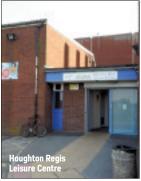

Councillors confirmed at a public meeting on Wednesday night that the Kingsland Drive building will continue to offer its 'dry side' sports activities until at least March 2013, but that the pool will be shut permanently as of next Sunday.

of next Sunday.

Central Bedfordshire Council said it was pressing on with the pool closure as part of its bid to save £75,000 as part of its £20 million overall target this year million overall target this year.

The council is seeking a new contract for the centre which will be put out to tender for facilities including the sports hall gym and squash courts, while pledging to involve residents in the process.

The new contract, running initially for 12 months from April 1, 2012, will 'aim to make the facility more affordable to keep open', and 'the new contractor will be tasked with reviewing running costs and working with residents on a new programme of activities that will generate more customers and income'.

Councillors have also signed up to 'a more strategic approach to developing leisure facilities' across Central Bedfordshire, with Houghton Regis being one of the first areas to be looked at.

Cllr Brian Spurr said: "Long term we need to take a strategic approach to leisure provision across Central Bedfordshire and develop facilities that meet the needs of our communities now and in the future.

"This decision, which I hope residents will welcome, allows us to retain leisure facilities and support local clubs while we work with residents to develop our future plans"

Park Square posts unease

SIR - I agree wholeheartedly with Ruth Fisher's comments referencing those lefty posts being installed on Park Square (Luton on Sunday Letters, August 7).

With quite a few other ex-service people, I go on the Remembrance Parade in November. We assemble in Park Street West and proceed across the pedestrian area, down Market Hill to the Town Hall.

What will we do now? I don't think the drill manual covers 'by the left - through the

Missing police point

SIR - Having read *Luton on*Sunday's Letters page (August 14), the first letter I read 'Do police run country' is incredulous and Brian Keddle needs to get his priorities in order. Has he had his head in the sand for the past few weeks?

Has he not been watching the news or reading the papers regarding the level of rioting and disorder that has been occurring in all parts

The police have not interfered but are prioritising their very, very over-stretched duties. They are always criticised if they do not respond to an incident or use excessive force in trying to do their very stressful jobs, under very trying circumstances. Perhaps Brian Keddle should offer his services to the police and try going out on a riot and see exactly what they have to deal with and stamp out.

At the end of the day looting is theft, damage to shops, property, vehicles etc is criminal damage as well as fires.

The laws in our country are here to prevent this happening and if you're foolish to try flouting them then you suffer the consequences.

If you cannot afford to have a criminal record because of your job or because you will have your home taken away - don't do the crime.

Football games should be post-poned or moved to another day if the relevant authorities think it's necessary as they will be the ones who have to pick up the pieces after the game or any trouble.

Story beggared belief

SIR - Regarding your story last week headlined 'Mum-to-be attacked while waiting for bus', this story is particularly shocking when you consider a pregnant woman was punched in the stomach. I couldn't believe it when I read it in your newspaper.

I don't know what goes through somebody's mind to do something like that to anyone, let alone some-one so vulnerable who is carrying a little one inside.

Some may say I shouldn't be so surprised, what with the way today's youth behave - just look at the recent rioting across the country to see how bad things have got. But there is something missing in

SIR - It is with some bemusement that I write in response to Michael Willis (Letters page, August 21) to reassure him that I have no conflict of interest whatsoever in respect of the Luton & Southern Central Bedfordshire Growth area.

I am not aware of a scintilla of financial benefit accruing to any organisation that I have a commercial relationship with as a result of development anywhere, let alone locally – my opposition to Bushwood is based solely on the fact that it is an unaffordable, unsustainable pipe dream put forward by a group of opportunistic house builders.

I actively and appropriately avoid any potential conflict of interest and I even stood down from the Joint Committee between Central Beds and Luton so I could properly represent my constituents' interests without the constraints that membership to a quasi-judicial planning committee brought with it.

Luton's withdrawal from the Core Strategy is not about me. It is about the ten years' wasted effort and millions of pounds of taxpayers' money spent in the

- not for personal reasons, but because it provided a robust plan for the future of this area. Central Beds will now just get on with adopting the Core Strategy without Luton, but I doubt that the Labour group in Luton will be feeling particularly proud of their actions, for the losers in this process are the voters, residents and businesses of Luton Borough. I just hope for the sake of the 200,000 or so residents of Luton that is not too late. Conservative Cllr Richard Stay Central Bedfordshire Council

Yes I support the Core Strategy

Police dealt with it wholly responsible and it was great to see the police force communicating with the people they serve.

There were other examples across the country of the emergency services using the social networks to engage with the community, including some police officers tweeting themselves.

I hope the force takes this up soon as I think it would make the public much more engaged with them.

SIR - Reading Adam Thompson's story about the police force using social networks during the riots made me realise that we should be very grateful to them.

A burden on the poor

SIR - As a national charity which helps people in financial need, news of mammoth price hikes from the rail networks is worrying to say the least. At Elizabeth Finn Care we see first hand how the most vulnerable members of society are being pushed to breaking point by ongo-ing rises in the cost of living.

Around three-quarters of people who approach us for help can't afford to take public transport to visit their family or friends, and a rise in fares will inevitably mean even more of those feeling the pinch are mired in isolation.

In this self-proclaimed affluent society, we would expect the cost of living to be affordable to all, but instead people are being stung by ballooning food costs, as petrol prices rocket and incomes are dented by freezes in child benefit, reductions in tax credits, lower wages and job loses.

The odds are being stacked more and more heavily against living comfortably, and those with limited incomes, or who have additional needs due to ill-health or disability, are being bit hardest.

These double figure price rises from Britain's rail companies are just the latest burden piled atop those already living worryingly close to the deep to the edge.

To those who are struggling, you can visit our free website www.turn2us.org.uk to carry out a benefits check in confidence to find out what welfare benefits they may be entitled to and whether there are charitable grants that they are be eligible for.

Help these animals

SIR - Some medical research charities that conduct appallingly cruel animal experiments are receiving millions of pounds every year in donations from the public.

This is despite the fact that a new opinion poll shows that 82 per cent of people would not knowingly give to a medical research or health charity that funds animal research. How can this be?

The only answer is that the public are being kept in the dark about the nature of the research these charities are funding.

Animal Aid's recent campaign, at the heart of which is a scientific report, Victims of Charity, reveals that charity-funded researchers have deliberately damaged monkeys' brains with toxic chemicals, slowly and systematically destroyed the hearts of dogs, and injected mice with cancerous tissue.

The report's authors conclude that laboratory experiments on animals produce information that cannot be reliably applied to human medicine – and can even be dangerously misleading.

Animal Aid is urging people to boycott all charities that conduct or fund cruel and unreliable animal research.

On a different issue, dairy farmers have long blamed badgers for spreading bovine tuberculosis, yet all the while keeping cows incarcerated for much – or even all – of their productive lives inside the filth and squalor of a factory farm shed.

Those animals who do not succumb to one of the many illnesses and conditions found inside these 'disease factories' will be sent to slaughter when their productivity

Their young – an unwanted by-product of milk production – are likely to meet a similar fate.

The public has spoken vociferously against badger culls through a number of consultations, and still Defra pays no attention.

The clamour from dairy farmers has drowned out all rational argu-

We are, therefore, asking all people who care about badgers now to put their money where their hearts are and boycott milk.

By choosing dairy-free alternatives, compassionate people can help end the misery of dairy cows and at the same time send a strong message to dairy farmers – don't blame badgers for your own welfare failings.

Attacks on ambulance staff on the increase

BY KEELEY KNOWLES

editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

THE number of ambulance staff reporting physical assaults – sometimes carried out by patients they are trying to help – has increased by more than ten per cent in a year.

In 2010-11 a total of 140
East of England
Ambulance Service NHS Trust staff were attacked in 116 incidents – a rise from the previous year when 125 employees reported assaults across 94 incidents.

Bedfordshire (including Luton) saw the second lowest overall figure with 11 members of staff attacked compared to seven in 2009-10.

Last year ambulance chiefs warned football fans they would be shown the red card if they physically or verbally abused paramedics during the World Cup in a bid to reduce the number of assaults, half of which were alcohol related – but the figures have continued to rise.

Danny Daniel, health, safety and security manager for the Trust, said attacks against staff were 'unacceptable' and that legal action would be taken wherever necessary.

He added: "We are continuing to encourage more staff to report incidents which figures will reflect.

"However, while the overwhelming majority of the people our staff see are extremely supportive and appreciative of their hard work, there is sadly a significant minority whose violent behaviour is absolutely unacceptable. "These acts of aggression, carried out while

"These acts of aggression, carried out while staff try to go about their day-to-day work helping those in need, not only affects those staff themselves but potentially presents challenges in getting resources out to other incidents.

"The ability of ambulance crews to work safely and unhindered is paramount not only for their own wellbeing but also that of other patients, and we totally condemn any violence carried out against them. Such attacks have potentially very serious consequences."

There were a number of successful prosecutions in 2010-11, including a man found guilty of common assault and sentenced to six weeks imprisonment with a further six weeks suspended for 18 months.

He was also required to compensate the Trust and the staff member assaulted for damages.

our eight-year-old daughter. And I might not. We have tickets for the Rhythm Festival, which is happening this week-end in a field near Biggleswade.

The last time I was in a field near Biggleswade - on second thoughts this is close enough to a family newspaper to spare you such sordid events from my past.

Along with the tickets, we get a spot reserved to pitch our tent. Now camping has never been for me. It is akin to choosing to live on your landing for a fortnight, after having the roof and the lavatory removed. This has always been the view of the PML but she seems to have undergone a change of heart. She feels it would be a good idea for us to camp out under the stars, having stood around listening to the rock-

The fact neither her or the little one are that keen on creepycrawlies, general discomfort and queuing for anything, especially matters of personal health and cleanliness, has not put her off from lying in a field for a night or two, while no more than ten miles from our bed and en-suite.

Her and camping are not two things that you would ever nor-mally put together - as someone whose rule of thumb in life is not to go anywhere where it is not practical to wear five inch stilettos, this has come out of the blue. However, she has reached the 'things to do before I die' stage which could account for this.

Queuing for the toilet makes you far from a happy camper

And speaking of matters lavatorial, why can not events organisers and architects in general create enough toilets to keep us from all the crosslegged queuing that happens in such places.
I was at the Oval cricket ground in London last Sunday and while it was easy to get a beer, Pimms, cup of tea, pasties, pizza or burger, there were queues for the lavatories all day. And St Pancras Station is worse. It is a magnificent refurbishment, bringing back to life one of the world's great buildings. It has everything, from shops, bars, cafes, restaurants, a fantastic hotel and the thrill of trains taking you straight to the Continent.

But if you need the loo, prepare to queue. And festivals are no better, as a rule. One of our family is at the Leeds Festival, where allegedly the lavatories are straight out of Horrible

Of course we may get a change of mind on the camping idea, for which women are supposedly famous, and is certainly true of the present Mrs Lowe. She may decide that camping out under the stars, or more likely a steady downpour, while listening to frogs and drunks croaking to each other, is not much fun after all.

Also neither of us are teachers or come from a teaching background, so have never made some corner of a foreign field English.

You need experience at this kind of thing, which children of teachers and the like have had ingrained in them since infancy. We don't really know what we are doing. What is fly-sheet, what do you do with guide ropes and stake pegs?

People who know advise me to practise in our garden but our garden has no grass. So I have suggested: how about a few bands, then home for a plate of cheese, a glass of Beaujolais and a warm comfy bed? And if anyone asks where our sense of adventure is, we can say not in a field near Biggleswade. Although I am sure the music will be just fine.

OF all the ways you could travel across a country, a small, cramped, slow tuk tuk is not most people's cup of tea.

But for Lee Tuffnell and his friends Bob Twells and Pritesh Meswania, it is just another way to have an adventure of a lifetime.

The three have 'pimped' out a tuk tuk so they can take part in the Rickshaw Run, a tri-yearly event to raise money for charities which this time is in aid of FRANK water which helps provide sustainable clean water projects in developing countries.

Named Jabba The Tuk (in tribute to Jabba the Hut - the friends are all big Star Wars fans), the tuk tuk will carry them from Shillong, in eastern India, to Jaisalmer, in the middle of the state of Rajasthan

Lee and Bob met when at Leknield High School in Luton, before meeting Pritesh at Manshead Upper when Lee moved there to do his A Levels.

In what Lee calls an 'early mid-life crisis', they will set off on September 11 and make their way across India, via Nepal, with nothing but the vehicle, a small amount of supplies and a tent.
The idea to compete in such events came to Lee and Bob two years ago over a few glasses of A TRIO of adventurers will face the daunting challenge of travelling 3,000km across India, through the Himalayan foothills and over all kinds of terrains - all in a three-wheeled tuk tuk. The 30-year-olds, who have known each other since their Luton school days, held a fundraising event on Friday and will set off for Asia this week. SOPHIÉ SCOTT reports.

Jack Daniels one night. In 2009 they completed the Mongol Rally which saw them drive a clappedout Skoda Felicia from England to Mongolia.

There is no set route but Lee says it is the challenge of completing such a task that makes it all the more appealing.

He said: "The best way to describe a tuk tuk is a three-wheeled vehicle that is only really built for driving around urban areas. It is totally unsuitable for deserts or mountains.

"We are just going to bring loads of gaffer tape and cable and hope we don't get into too many problems. We will just make it up as we go along. No technical support is offered by the organisers.

"We have not had any real training as yet, we are going out to India a couple of days before to have a crash course in mechanics but that's really about the extent of the preparation.

"I am a little worried about going through some of the areas where there might be tigers and other animals. I spoke to my

the tuk tuk as charity an Indian challenge nurse when I was getting my rabies jab and she said the best thing was probably to take a really big stick to help fend them off.

"I am a little bit nervous about access to clean water and ending up with Delhi Belly, we imagine at least one of us is going to be ill at one point so two can take turns driving the tuk tuk while the other sleeps on the back seat.

"We have each agreed to only bring one rucksack with personal items so we have limited ourselves in what we can bring, like two pairs of socks, two pairs of pants and necessary equipment. We are travelling as light as possible."

Lee said his experiences so far have changed his outlook on life. He explained: "I'm really not as materialistic as I was before and I have become a lot more tolerant. Most of the world isn't like Britain.

"I'm trying to learn a little bit of Hindi, you know things like, 'hello, can I have a cup of tea?', things to help us get by.

The trio had a fundraising night at Papa J's in Luton on Friday and are hoping they will raise at least £1,000 over the next few weeks.

In Lee's own words, this adventure will be three men, three wheels, 3,000 km. To find out more about their trip and to follow their progress, visit their website at www.jabbathetuk.com

Initiative means 'number's up' for car crime

A CAR crime-busting campaign is being launched to help prevent fuel being stolen from petrol stations. 'Your Number's Up' will begin at an event in Luton on Thursday when police officers will offer drivers the chance to get their number plates fitted with free tamper-proof screws Thieves often illegally use other cars' plates when filling up in forecourts, enabling them to dodge CCTV cameras.

Bedfordshire Police hope that the event, at Sainsbury's car park in Dunstable Road, takes place between noon and 4pm, will drive down the number of thefts not only of registration plates but also fuel at petrol stations

Thursday's launch will be the first in a series coordinated by Luton Local Policing Team Sergeant Graham Bates. It will be followed by a second event at Asda car park, in Wigmore Lane, between 1pm and 4pm the following day.

Detective Chief Inspector Greg Horsford, who is leading the initiative which was rolled out across Central Bedfordshire in July, said: "This campaign is all about encouraging motorists to protect their vehicles and warning offenders that their 'number's up'.

"I'd encourage as many people as possible from Luton and across Bedfordshire to take advantage of this free service which could save them a huge amount of money in the future.

Anyone with information about vehicle crime can leave a message on the dedicated 'Your Number's Up' hotline on 01582 473241.

Alternatively call the main switchboard on 01234 841212, text to 07768 20011 or contact Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Homeowners cash in by renting rooms to airline workers

BY LUI STRACCIA

MORE and more homeowners are making money by renting out their rooms to airline cabin crew who are looking for cheaper alternatives than hotels.

Residents are cashing in on carrier staff wanting accommodation near Luton Airport, pocketing up to £50 a night in the

The sudden increase is believed to have come about as a result of the recession, with cabin crew eager to save money while they have a layover at the airport, stay overnight before their flight leaves, or undergo training courses there.

Homeowner-occupiers can earn an extra £4,250 a year tax free by renting out a room, and an esti-mated 1,560 cabin crew pass through Luton Airport on a daily

Stephen Rapaport, who founded online business Crashpadder.com which has capitalised on the boom by setting up a group to allow hosts near all the major airports to promote their rooms solely for cabin crew, said: "Demand for accommodation in Luton via Crashpadder.com has increased by 54 per cent in the

"Luton in particular is a spot where this is happening because, unlike Gatwick, there are a lot of cabin crew training courses where you are looking at up to six week, not just one night.

"There is a clear trend of cabin crew in the area. Crashpadder offers a channel for cabin crew, who find hotels too expensive, to find reasonably priced rooms located right next to the main air-

Cops make plea after man is robbed in underpass

POLICE in Luton are appealing for witnesses to come forward after a 23-year-old man was robbed last Saturday.

The victim was walking from the Purley Centre, Luton, and through the underpass that leads under The Moakes at around 9.30am when he was stopped by three men, punched to the floor and his pockets were searched.

The robbers then left the scene taking his wallet and mobile phone, and police keen to trace anyone who saw the robbery or anyone who can help identify the culprits. One of them is described as a black man with a medium build, 5ft 10ins tall and aged between 25-30. He was wearing a black hooded top and grey jogging bottoms. Anyone with information can contact DC Paine at the South Bedfordshire Robbery Squad, in confidence, on 01582 394052, or call Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Luton united by football

lui etraccia@luteneneundav.co.ul

AROUND 500 football fans enjoyed watching a Luton version of the World Cup won by Zimbabwe.

Played in the Luton in Harmony spirit, the two-day Unity Cup tournament saw 12 teams representing different nations.

Zimbabwe emerged victorious, edging out their Indian counterparts in the final last weekend. Gambia were narrowly defeated by Poland in the third place play-off, who also won the trophy for 'Fair Play Team of the Tournament'.

Players and spectators used the tournament as a chance to learn about the cultures and backgrounds of others.

As well as the football, there were two percussion performances, one from an Asian group using a special drum called a dhol, and the other from an African drumming group.

Mayor of Luton Don Worlding was on hand to present the winning teams and players with their trophies, and was joined by Leader of the Council Hazel Simmons, Area Community Safety Officer Jane Clarke from Bedfordshire and Luton Fire and Rescue Service, and Abdul Ghafoor, Secretary at Luton Council of Mosques. Last weekend's events also helped to raise an impressive £390 for Keech Hospice, thanks to the generous donations of spectators. CllrWorlding said: "The Unity Cllr Worlding said: "The Unity Cup was a fantastic weekend of sport which really highlighted what Luton is all about." The tournament was organised by Luton Central Football Club in association with Bedfordshire FA, and with support from Luton Borough Council, the fire service, Bedfordshire Police and Active Luton.

Glitzy two-hour show celebrates the hits of leading lady Dolly

DOLLY, THE SHOW -A CELÉBRATION OF THE LEADING LADY OF COUNTRY

Grove Theatre, Dunstable

DOLLY Parton is a legend - an award-winning singer, composer, musician, actress and author, and this show celebrates the music that made her the world icon she is today.

See the tour which kicks up the dust and takes you on a musical journey through Dolly's early days to her arena concerts of today.

This glitzy two hour show, features a full cast of singers, Dolly Mixture Dancers and superb musicians, all playing live to celebrate the career of award-winning legend, Dolly Parton. It is led by acclaimed country singer Jeanne Jordan, who was introduced to country music by the famous Gibb brothers (Bee Gees).

While living in Los Angeles, she was present at many recording sessions including the recording of Dolly Parton & Kenny Rogers' worldwide hit, 'Islands in the Stream'.

Jeanne is no stranger to portraying Dolly as she has toured with another award-winning country music theatre show for ten years and is sure to impress with her vocal talent and charisma - not to mention her Dolly-

It's known that Dolly Parton spent time with Kenny Rogers and featuring in Dolly, The Show is the amazing BJ Thomas providing the Kenny Rogers vocals on the songs that people have come to love.

Dolly, The Show is packed with some of Dolly's greatest hits, including 9 to 5, I Will Always Love You, Islands in the Stream, Jolene, Here You Come Again, Coat of Many Colors and many more, all performed on a great stage set, injected with fun and more sparkles Rhinestones. than Dolly's

Tickets are priced at either £18 or £19 and can be booked by calling the box office on 01582 602080 or by visiting www.grovetheatre.co.uk

Marty's back to wow audiences in one Wilde night

MUSIC

MARTY WILDE AND THE WILDCATS

Alban Arena, St Albans

MORE than 50 years in showbusiness and still rocking, pop music legend Marty Wilde is performing his Born To Rock 'n' Roll tour.

Teenager In Love, Donna, Sea of Love and Jezebel are just a few of the hits that established Marty as the UK's leading rock 'n' roll singer of the late 50s and early 60s. His 13 consecutive hit records stayed in the charts for a total of 117 weeks. Audiences are still enjoying Marty Wilde and The Wildcats live on stage today belting out Endless Sleep, Dream Lover, Bad Boy, Rubber Ball and many more.

Marty is an icon of the British rock 'n' roll movement and he gives an electric performance celebrating the brilliance of an era that inspired British youth culture and shaped the future of the British music scene. The show is packed full of memories, anecdotes and homage to his contemporaries. Living up to the spirit of the age, Marty's superb vocals have audiences on their feet and dancing to his hits.

Born Reginald Leonard Smith, in Greenwich, London, Marty was discovered, at just 19 years old, by rock 'n' roll entrepreneur Larry Parnes while performing at the Condor Club, London.

His big break came with the advent of the UK's first rock 'n' roll TV show, Six-Five Special. Marty then became one of the stars of Jack Good's new ITV programme Oh Boy.

His hit recording Bad Boy established Marty as a successful songwriter. He went on to write a number of hits including Lulu's I'm A Tiger, Ice In The Sun for Status Quo and Jesamine for The Casuals. He wrote Kids In America and a string of other successes for his daughter Kim Wilde.

Tickets are priced at either £19 or £20 and can be bought by calling the box office on 01727 844488 or from www.alban-arena.co.uk

THE ZOMBIES - IN CONVERSATION Vintage TV, 6pm

The Zombies were formed 50 vears ago, so how fitting to get to spend a special hour in the fine company of the boys from St Albans as they take us back to the heady days of Zombiedom. In this fascinating interview with Mike Read. The Zombies talk about their early influences when students at St Albans Boys' Grammar School, to being propelled into the limelight after winning a beat-group competition sponsored by a London newspaper. That's when they were signed to Decca and out popped their first hit. 'She's Not There'. The rest, as they say, is history - and you'll hear it all first-hand only

THE Inbetweeners movie came out last week, and the boys told us why we should see the movie.

Hundreds of fans queued for hours to meet cast members Simon Bird, Joe Thomas, James Buckley and Blake Harrison and they walked for the first time on the red carpet.

The film sees four boys who play the nation's favourite sixth formers on a lads holiday. We found out how the premiere was

Simon said: "Incredible - none of us expected anyone to be there," and Joe admitted: "It was a really poignant moment for all of us, as it was the end of the show, so we were all nervous and feeling a bit sick."

Joe, aka gaffe-prone Simon, also told us about one of his favourite scenes which involved him diving into the sea.

"I was quite pleased I got to do it, even though it was a fairly non-spectacular dive." He added: "The film is a bonding experience for the boys, as they rely on each other a bit more – which they shouldn't as they are all pretty unreliable!"

Blake thinks the film will change what people think of them: "Parents will see they're pretty harmless. In their world the boys think all this amazing, mental stuff is going on, but really when you step back and look at it, it's not that mental and parents will see it for what it is," to which Joe added: 'It's an important riite of passage."

It's great if you don't mind a cringeworthy giggle – reminders of our teenage years with nose moments we'd rather not relive.

Edinburgh's more than a festival of fun

TRAVEL

EDINBURGH

MENTION Edinburgh and most people think festival - and with good reason.Folk flock from all over the world to enjoy three exhilarating weeks of the very best in classical music, theatre, opera and dance.

Ten days ago the city was so busy Premier League football side Spurs struggled to find a base as they prepared for a crucial European match.

And while the famous festival ends on September 4, there will be no let up in the tourism industry in this part of the United Kingdom.

It takes around seven and a half hours to drive from Bedfordshire to the Scottish capital and it's important, on a short break, to find the right hotel in the perfect location.

The Rutland Hotel was very easy to find and central, which meant we didn't have to spend valuable time travelling in and out of the city.

A multi-award winning boutique hotel, the Rutland is located at the Castle End (West End), just off the famous Princess Street, so we were soon out the door and off and running.
With its streets steeped in histoand its thriving cultural scene, Edinburgh offers something for everyone.

We thought we would start at the top, in height. Their most famous tourist attraction is the world renowned icon Scotland, Edinburgh Castle.

Dating back as far as the 12th Century, towering above the City, the castle is built on top of Castle Hill and houses the Honours (Crown Jewels) of Scotland and the Stone of Destiny.

Inside and out, there is a variety of attractions and there is disability access to many points of

Just outside the castle we found the Scottish Whisky experience where you can learn the origins of Scotch whisky. Guides also explain the different aromas and flavours that appeal to your palate and lead you to your perfect Single Malt. After working up an appetite, we headed off to the main shopping area on and around Princes Street, which offers a fantastic assortment of snack and then we slowly wandered back to the hotel, stopping at most of the other department stores and a couple of lively bars.

After a short rest back at the Rutland we headed for the hotel restaurant. I love my food and have eaten at excellent establishments around the globe - and the food here was fantastic. We had the usual dilemma of what to order when presented with the innovative menu – created by the award winning head Chef David Haetzma, which he has obviously designed around local and fresh produce.

As I was in Scotland, I had to order local shellfish and fillet of Scotch beef and I was far from disappointed. The presentation and quality of the food was sub-lime and the the well used 'melts in the mouth' adage was not out of place when referring to the

It was the perfect sustenance and set us for a second day of and set us for a second day or sight-seeing in a city that has so much to offer for everyone whether it'shistory, shopping or bars and restaurants. Oh, and don't forget the festival.

Barnes-goner

MATTHEW Barnes-Homer has been sent on loan with npower League One side Rochdale until January 16 with Luton manager Gary Brabin saying the move is a "win-win situation".

Brabin said: "With him playing first team football, it will boost his profile which, as a club, gives us the options of bringing him back and playing a player who's reignited and fresh to help us with our promotion push. Or, people could get interested in him and make a reasonable bid for him. It's a win-win situation."

Though the loan move runs out during the winter transfer window Brabin said that no deal had been struck with a view to making the switch permanent, similar to the way he came to Kenilworth Road.

"Nothing has been agreed," said the Luton boss, adding: "The Rochdale manager is a friend of mine and he needed a striker on board "I didn't want to help any of our competitors and I think it will be a fresh challenge for Matthew.

"He hasn't featured much but I've always said he's got the potential, I just don't think it's coming out at the moment. I wanted more out of my striker and I just didn't feel I was getting that. He has a lot of ability but we just want a bit more work sets and operary.

"I believe Steve Lyre had been keeping an eye on me for a while and as I'm not playing at Luton Town it was a good opportunity for both parties.

"I'm here until January and I know I have to work hard to get into the team and I'm sure the way Rochdale play will suit my style."

Adam's England joy short-lived

ADAM WATKINS has been denied his first chance of an England C cap after the Football Association confirmed that the non-league Three Lions' proposed fixture with India U23s at Dagenham & Redbridge on September 6 has been postponed following the cancellation of the India/Pakistan UK tour.

The India v Pakistan games, due to take place in Derby and Glasgow next month, were organised independently with the international fixture at Pride Park receiving FA clearance to be staged in this

A spokesman for The FA said: "The knock on effect of the tour cancellation means that we have no choice but to postpone the England C fixture at Dagenham & Redbridge FC."

Also this week, Jake Howells was handed a place in the Wales Under-21 squad for their European qualifier in Montenearo next month

The versatile midfielder made his debut two weeks ago as Hungary narrowly beat the young Dragons 2-1 in a friendly.

But the 20-year-old, who played the full 90 minutes in Haverfordwest, impressed head coach Brian Flynn enough to earn a second call-up.

"We are not surprised – Jake has done great and has really progressed since he came on the scene in the first team," said Town boss Gary Brabin. "He is getting better and better and he's performing well consistently."

However, the manager now has to contend with players out on international duty, so it is a double-edged sword. He said: "On one hand it's a real compliment but at the moment, we want to keep all our players fit.

"I'm delighted but you're always a bit worried when they're playing so many games."

Ace Amari shows his mettle as The Iron bend to his brace

BY IAN RYAN

ian.ryan@lutononsunday.com

ON the same day 20 years ago, Luton Town were playing Arsenal at Highbury... but yesterday afternoon a brace from Amari Morgan-Smith helped steer the Hatters to a 3-1 victory over Braintree Town.

Seven divisions separated the two sides that day, with The Iron recording a 4-0 victory over Bury Town in the Southern League Southern Division, but Luton taught the Essex club a lesson as the clubs met for the first time on a level playing field.

first time on a level playing field.

Morgan-Smith slid the ball under an out-rushing and out of sorts Nathan McDonald to put the Hatters ahead but Ben Wright, who had a short loan spell at Luton two years ago, pulled the Iron level shortly after.

Morgan-Smith initially missed a spot kick after Nathan McDonald brought down Danny Crow but the forward fired home the rebound and then Jake Howells made the scoreline comfortable on the stroke of half time.

It was Luton who had the first attempt on goal with James Dance only an inch away from turning in Robbie Willmott's cross, which eluded a hapless McDonald. The keeper rushed out into no-man's-land and was fortunate the winger couldn't redirect the cross on the stretch.

But Braintree soon came back at the Hatters and had a flurry of chances which could have given them an early lead with Wright's low drive the first to be beaten away from Mark Tyler.

Then, Kenny Davis found himself in acres of space in the centre of the Hatters box and he must have thought his strike was destined for the back of the net had it not have been for a timely intervention from Curtis Osano. Moments later, Wright nipped in front of Dean Beckwith to steer a free header over.

However, Braintree were made to rue those missed opportunities as Luton took the lead

Luton took the lead.

Morgan-Smith latched on to a ball through the middle to slide the ball past a hesitant McDonald who decided to surge forward off his line too

Wright tried to find a quick reply for the visitors but his long-range effort was palmed away by Tyler.

Luton began to find their feet and take control midway through the first half as Crow diverted Willmott's low cross wide, and then Keith Keane fired a low, curling effort marginally wide.

But Braintree deservedly levelled shortly after. Wright appeared to have run out space but then somehow found the room to squeeze the ball past Tyler at his near post.

It didn't take too long for Luton to restore their lead as Alex Lawless rolled a perfect pass through to Crow who, despite a heavy touch that pushed him away from goal, was bundled down by McDonald.

The Braintree keeper attempted to redeem himself by saving Morgan-Smith's spot kick but the rebound fell kindly for the forward to slot home.

Things then got worse for the Essex side as they found themselves further behind. Willmott was terrorising Aswad Thomas down the left flank and his touch to Howells gave the left back the space to fire in Luton's third. The second half got off to a less frantic pace with little noteworthy action happening until Osano cut inside and fired marginally wide ten minutes in. Crow then went close after a mishit goal kick from McDonald landed at the striker's feet but his effort was deflected wide.

Luton were now completely domi-

Dance after a weaving run inside the penalty box and McDonald had to be at his best to claw away Dance's resulting shot.

The keeper pulled off another fine save moments later to keep out Willmott's curling free-kick as the heavens opened.

Matt Paine thought he'd reduced the deficit with 11 minutes to go but his header was adjudged not to have crossed Tyler's goal-line after initially hitting the underside of the crossbar. Dance had an opportunity to put the

On Thursday, the 40-year-old allowe last term's top marksman, Matthew Barnes-Homer, to join League One Rochdale on a loan deal until the New Year. Though a replacement has so far eluded him, the Kenilworth Road chief has sugested that the role will be filled – even if he has to look to the loan market in the short term.

"We are quite close to our main targets but it seems to be dragging on over a matter of closing it up," he said.

"We don't want to go away from that at the moment because we are so close. We are hopeful that something is going to happen but we don't want to hang around forever.

"If we need to, we got our finger on the pulse for a couple of short term or possible long term ones.

"I know what we need to improve and they don't come easy or cheap. We are chasing those targets but at the same time we've got a possible back-up with loan options."

Carden added to coaching staff

PAUL Carden has been appointed as Luton Town first team coach following a successful trial period.

He originally arrived at Kenilworth Road as a player last season from Cambridge United, making ten appearances in a loan spell. The 32year-old was released by the U's in June but has been at Luton since the summer.

Boss Gary Brabin said: "Paul has been terrific since he's come in just like he was when he signed for the club last season.

"The lads have really taken to his methods in training and his advice and experience has been extremely beneficial." Carden will also help assistant manager Alan Neilson in the management of the development squad where he will be registered as a player and feature if required. "I'm thrilled to get the opportunity to work at Luton Town," Carden said. "I've enjoyed every minute of my time at Kenilworth Road and I'm looking forward to working with Gary, Alan, Dmitri [Kharine] and the players in our push for promotion. It's a great opportunity and I'd like to thank everyone at the club for their support over the past few months."

BARTON ROVERS picked up a deserved point away at Rugby Town, but both sides felt they had chances to win the game.

There was little in terms of action in the opening 20 minutes from either team but Barton began to get on top after settling quicker than the home side.

he dismissed penalty claims for both teams, with Barton believing theirs to be a far better claim. A draw was a fair result and manager Dan Kennoy was happy with his teams performance. He said: "We played very well today and Rugby is a tough place to come, so to get a draw is a fantastic result for us."

SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE PREMIER DIVISION DUNSTABLE TOWN ran out 4-2 winners away at Oxhey Jets, but the match was a lot tighter than the scoreline suggests Matthew Judde opened the scoring for Dunstable when his shot trcikled over the line. Damon Pickering scored from close range to double their lead. The home side pulled a goal back and missed a penalty. But further goals from Nathan Frater and Jonathan Cooper helped extend their lead. Oxhey had renewed hope late on when they scored, but it was not enough.

SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE DIVISION ONE EMONDE PROTAIN'S hat-trick sent CRAWLEY GREEN tumbling to a 5-2 loss at the hands of Tokyngton Manor yesterday.

Crawley are yet to win a game this season and the loss kept them in the bottom three. They had a very poor game and were made to pay for several defensive lapses. Protain struck after five minutes before Michael Davies drew Crawley level.

Calvin George then made it 2-1 to Tokyngton but Davies equalised again making it 2-2 at half-time. Four minutes after the restart Perry Mahone gave Tokynton the lead again and Protain scored on the 52nd and 72nd minute to bring his season's tally to 11 goals.

SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE DIVISION TW) A DOUBLE from Ryan Douglas gave CADDINGTON a well-deserved 3-2 win against Bletchley Town.
Bletchley took the lead but two well-taken goals from Douglas made it 2-1.

Steve Harris then extended their advantage to 3-1 before Bletchley pulled one back on the stroke of half-time

TOTTERNHOE secured a 3-2 away victory to Tring Corinthians thanks to goals from Stefan Tracey and Shaun Bishop.

Two Tring goals had made it 2-1 at half-time but Bishop equalised 25 minutes after the break to level the score.

Tring then had a man sent-off on 80 minutes, allowing Tracey to score the winner and make it a perfect start to Totternhoe's season.

KENT ATHLETIC continued their poor start of the new campaign suffering a 2-0 loss at home to Winslow United.

AFC DUNSTABLE secured a comfortable 4-1 win away at Harefield United thanks to a JJ Billy brace.

Billy opened the scoring after capitalising on a defensive mistake. He scored his second early in the second half and a fine Ryan Quinn strike from 35 yards put Dunstable three up.

Craig Butler made sure of the win when he scored from the spot, after BJ Cristie was felled.

Billy was then denied his hat-trick when he was wrongfully ruled offside late on.

Kissock couldn't turn down Hatters

BY IAN RYAN

ian.ryan@lutononsunday.com

JOHN PAUL KISSOCK has said the pull of Luton Town Football Club was too big to turn down as he made his first appearance as a Hatters in the side's 3-1 win over Braintree Town yesterday.

Raintree Town yesterday.

Kissock came on as a last-minute substitute against the Essex club and has revealed afterwards that the ambitions of boss Gary Brabin to get Luton Town back into the Football League played a major factor in his decision to move south.

Kissock said: "It is the size of Luton as a Kissock said: "It is the size of Luton as a club and the way that they play football – it is a massive football club, so I it was a bit of an easy option and I'm very grateful that they are giving me support in restarting my career.

"It was a sheer football decision. I absolutely love Southport as a club and I'll never forget the time I had there as it sort of restarted my career.

"Everyone at the club was great but I thought that as a football decision, Luton was the place to come. It's the way they try and play football and the ambition of the manager, so I thought it was quite an easy decision

"I worked with the manager [Brabin] at Everton when I was younger and he was a coach and I've known of his career as well, so I'm looking forward to working with him

"Luton are known for their fans and at Southport, the lads who have played there (Kenilworth Road) before said it had great support so hopefully I can try and do well for the club. I think this club deserves to be in the league with the support it gets and hopefully we can do that this year.

"It was hard luck last year, losing on penalties, but hopefully this year we can push on."

The playmaker made his move from Southport a week after playing for the Sandgrounders against his new side and Kissock has said that he was shocked at how quick his transfer went through. It's been so fast and done so quickly," said Kissock, adding: "I was a Southport player on Thursday, I was getting my gear on ready to go training in the night and I got a call from the manager to say, 'don't bother, get yourself to Luton'.

"Now it's two days later and I've made my debut.

"It's been such a quick transaction and I think that's how football is sometimes."

■Luton 3 Braintree 1 – report on p58-59

Brabin's with Wenger when it comes to talking transfers

GARY Brabin has highlighted Arsenal boss Arsene Wenger's recent rant on transfer talk after bids for two of his players were made public.

Forest Green Rovers and Stevenage have made bids for Robbie Willmott and Keith Keane respectively but the Luton boss was keen to set the record straight – that neither will be leaving Kenilworth Road.

It comes after the Gunners supremo hit out at Bolton Wanderers for calling a £6 million bid for their England international defender Gary Cahill 'derisory', suggesting the Trotters did not need to go public if they disagreed with the fee.

Brabin said: "The way that people do business is up to them. I think Arsene Wenger was talking on telly this week with a lot of teams saying things, and I'm the same.

"I don't know why it needs to be advertised. Maybe people have to do it to generate a little more interest."

While the Hatters boss stopped short of using the same language as the Bolton, he made his point of view abundantly clear regards the bids for his men.
"They were measly offers of which we didn't even bring to

"They were measly offers of which we didn't even bring to the players," he said." The players know about them, we've kept no secrets but it's of no interest to us whatsoever and I can probably tell you now that those two players won't be going to those two clubs."

Gary has his eyes on top drawer strikers despite some frustration

FOOTBALL League goalscorers are not out of reach for Luton Town, according to Gary Brabin, who has revealed that he is close to securing a striker.

He signed midfield playmaker John Paul Kissock on Friday but the search for a forward is still his top priority.

However, with the transfer window ready to shut on Wednesday, the Hatters boss is frustrated at hitches that are holding up a deal which is close to completion.

"Looking at strikers who are in the second and first divisions, or even higher, shouldn't be out of our reach," the manager said. "We are certainly looking for top strikers. What I want to do is build a good, young, footballing side and add quality strikers to that." He added: "We feel we've got it one minute and then there's a

He added: We reel we've got it one minute and then there's a hiccup. It is quite difficult and frustrating but we are not going to leave ourselves short. A lot of things can break down.
